CHILD RESCUED FROM ICY WATER

M. J. BARRETT JUMPS INTO LAKE AND SAVES BABY.

HAD SUNK FOR THIRD TIME

WOULD HAVE BEEN DEAD IN ANOTHER MOMENT.

IS REVIVED WITH DIFFICULTY

Street Car Passengers Witness Exciting Scene in Which Conductor Proves to Be Hero—This Is Indeed Day of Thanksgiving for Family.

Just as she had sunk for the third time in the cold waters of Jenkins' pond, in Ivywild, at the edge of which she had been playing, Margaret, the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
L. G. Belcher of 17 Roma street, was rescued about 11 o'clock yesterday morning by Conductor M. J. Barrett and Motorman W. P. Funk, the crew of a southbound street car, in full view of a score of horrified passengers.

Bringing their car to a stop so suddenly that several passengers were thrown from their seats, Barrett and Funk jumped to the ground and ran at full speed to the scene of the accident, about 100 feet away. Only a tiny foot projecting through the surface of the rippling water directed them to the exact spot where the child had sunk.

All Thought Child Dead.

Conductor Barrett was the first on the scene. Realizing that a moment's delay meant the sacrifice of an innocent human life, he plunged into the lake and brought the shivering child from the icy water. By that time several of the passengers on the street car had reached the edge of the lake. All thought that the child was dead. Neighbors whose attention had been attracted by the exciting scene, rushed to the spot and helped Barrett to his home across the street.

Unconscious for an Hour.

When Mrs. Belcher saw him approaching with the little one in his arms, she uttered a cry of despair, thinking for the moment that it had been run over by the car. At another glance she saw that its clothes were soaking wet and her agony was still more intensified. Resuscitative were administered immediately, although it was nearly an hour before the baby regained consciousness.

Last night little Margaret chatted merrily with her mother about her runaway trip to the lake to "go swiming." She had heard the children of the neighborhood relate their skating experiences and had decided to make a venture of her own.

A Day of Thanksgiving.

"Baby had not been out of my sight more than five minutes when they carried her in dead," as I at first feared," said Mr. Belcher to a Gazette reporter yesterday afternoon. "I shall never forget that terrible moment as long as I live. We kept the gate fastened and the fence wired so that she cannot get out of the yard, and I cannot imagine how she got to the lake. The passengers in the car were very kind, especially one woman whose name I wish I knew. She remained with me until the baby regained consciousness. I was so distracted that I forgot to ask her name. Now that we have baby with us, alive and well, after this terrible experience, tomorrow will indeed be a day of thanksgiving for us."

Mr. Belcher is himself a motor-man in the employ of the street railway company.

NO DELAY, SAYS EVANS

Fleet Will Sail for Pacific Waters December 16.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—You can bet your North American life that the battleship fleet will sail from Hampton Roads on its voyage to the Pacific on the morning of December 16. The vessels will get under way just as soon as I receive the President's order to set sail.

In this characteristic manner, Admiral Evans answered reports that there would be a delay in the assembling and departure of the fleet. At the bureau of navigation, the admiral's statement was confirmed.

AGITATION CONTINUES

Frontier Troops in Algeria Still on War Path.

PARIS, Nov. 27.—Advises received here from Algeria state that the agitation among the turbulent frontier tribes is unabated. The governor of Algeria telegraphs that 1,000 of the tribesmen invaded Algerian territory ravaging many gardens and burning haystacks, after which they retired.
The governor has received an urgent request for troops from the mayor of Remours who says that the town is threatened by hordes of Arabs. Accordingly, additional forces will be sent there to exact exemplary satisfaction.

BIGELOW CAN'T ESCAPE TRIAL

Motion to Quash New Cases Against Young Dynamitard, Refused by Judge Bliss.

DENVER, Nov. 27.—The motion to quash the new cases filed against Kemp V. Bigelow, who sent bombs to a number of prominent Denver men, argued today before Judge Bliss, was refused.

Bigelow's attorney argued that after a jury had found the defendant guilty of simple assault in sending a bomb to David H. Moffat, he could not be prosecuted upon similar charges, as the sending of the several bombs constituted one offense. The court refused to sustain this motion, and Bigelow will be tried on these other charges and also on the charge of attempting a confidence game. After the state authorities finish with him, he will be turned over to the federal authorities.

ROOT-GRANT NUPTIALS

TARY OF STATE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The wedding of Miss Edith Root, daughter of the secretary of state, and Lieutenant U. S. Grant, Third corps of engineers, U. S. A., was solemnized at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at the home of Secretary Root, Rev. Herbert Shipman of New York, formerly chaplain at West Point, officiating.

In the bridal party were the bride's cousin, Miss Ruth Wales of New York, and the bridegroom's cousin, Potter Palmer of Chicago, as maid of honor and best man, respectively, and the following groomsmen: Elliot Root, Jr., and Edward Wales Root, brothers of the bride; Lieutenant Robert E. Ralston and Lieutenant M. W.
Howse, brother officers of the groom;
Gustave Schwab of New York and Edward B. McLean of this city.

The invited guests numbered about 500, gathered from many points.
President and Mrs. Roosevelt were present and the former escorted the bride to the dining room, where he offered a toast to the "long life and happiness of the couple."

The wedding march was played by the Engineers band from the Washington barracks, where Lieutenant Grant was stationed last year.
Secretary Root carried his daughter to the altar, where the ceremony was performed, while Lieutenant Grant was attended by the best man, Potter Palmer.

ATMOSPHERE CLEARED

TROUBLE OVER POWERS VE-NIRE IS ADJUSTED.

All the Names Will Be Put in Box and Jury Will Be Drawn for Them.

GEORGETOWN, Md., Nov. 27.—Investigation as to the summoning of the Grant county venire, on which was based the defense's challenge for dismissing the last division of the venire, occupied the forenoon session of the Caleb Powers trial. The defense offered to withdraw its motion to set aside the second division and over the objection of the commonwealth, the court sustained the motion. This cleared the atmosphere somewhat.

Judge Morris expressed surprise at today's revelations. He said it was unprecedented in any court in the land for a sheriff to be followed by a gang of men purporting to represent two political parties. He said:
"Had the court been apprised of this at the time the party went into Grant county, I would have ordered the arrest of all of them."

The court then ruled that all the names of both venires be put in a box and a jury drawn from them.

WESTON TOWERS TIME

CHIPS MORE THAN 27 HOURS FROM FORMER RECORD.

Pedestrian Makes Trip From Portland, Me., to Chicago in 24 Days, 19 Hours and 15 Minutes.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—Twenty-seven hours and 25 minutes were clipped by Edward Payson Weston from the record for pedestrianism between Portland, Me., and Chicago, established by himself 40 years ago when today he ended his second trip on foot between the two cities. Weston's actual time, exclusive of Sundays on the present trip, was 24 days, 19 hours and 15 minutes. In 1867, he consumed 25 days, 22 hours and 40 minutes for the same trip. His mileage, according to his manned route, was 1,243-4 miles, but the speedometer on the automobile which followed him, registered 1,325 miles.

The difference was due to the fact that on several occasions Weston took wrong roads and thus lost distance.
The veteran walker showed few effects of his long tramp tonight, immediately after reaching the Illinois Athletic club, where he was entertained on the conclusion of his trip.
He was examined by a physician, who pronounced him physically sound. The chief change noted was a loss of 17 pounds in flesh. Today he tipped the scales at 130 pounds. When he left Portland he weighed 147.

SENATOR'S STENOGRAPHER RE-PEATS WOMAN'S WORDS.

MAY CONCLUDE CASE FRIDAY

It Will Require Another Day to Introduce All the Testimony, Court Is Closed Today—Mrs. Bradley Is Showing Effects of Trying Ordeal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Throughout the day, the testimony offered in the trial of Mrs. Annie M. Bradley, charged with having shot and killed former Senator Brown of Utah in this city last December, was most damaging to the defendant. There were many witnesses who had seen her shortly after the shooting and others who had attended her while she was in jail here, but none of them had any time doubted her sanity. These witnesses had been called by the government in rebuttal. They included practically everyone who had come in contact with Mrs. Bradley after the shooting of Brown. Attendants at the hotel where the shooting occurred, officials at the police station and at the house of detention in which she was at first confined, newspaper men, doctors and attendants at the jail declared their belief that she was rational in manner and coherent in language when they saw and talked to her.
Several other witnesses who had talked with her in Salt Lake and elsewhere, prior to the shooting, gave evidence to the same effect.

Encounter With Mrs. Brown.

A dramatic feature of the day was the declaration by Sarah E. Christensen of Salt Lake City, of an encounter between Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Brown at a hotel in Pocatello, Idaho, in the summer of 1908. On that occasion Mrs. Brown discovered Mrs. Bradley in the hotel with Senator Brown and attacking her attempted to choke her and asked to be allowed to kill her.
Cries of Mrs. Bradley brought the senator to the rescue and then the entire party, including the witness, had an all-night discussion, during which Brown, turning fiercely upon his wife, denied that he was the father of her son, Max Brown, and at the same time admitted that he was the father of two of Mrs. Bradley's children. An outburst of denunciation by Mrs.
Brown of her husband and Mrs. Bradley followed, after which the senator and the defendant went to another hotel where they called for drinks.

Had Lied to Mrs. Bradley.

A new phase of the testimony was the admission by Archibald Livingston, the senator's stenographer, when he had often told false tales to Mrs. Bradley in order to quiet her, and to avoid trouble for either the senator or himself.

Justice Stafford rebuked a couple of spectators, a man and a woman who brought with them a girl about 11 years of age. When the justice saw the child, he stopped the proceedings and ordered an attendant to escort the couple and child from the court room. The testimony today, as on every day since the trial began, included many allusions to the ears of a child.

It was expected that all the testimony would be in today, but at the last moment the district attorney subpoenaed three additional witnesses in rebuttal. Another witness is now on his way here from Utah to testify for the government. It is now almost a certainty that the testimony will be concluded on Friday, to which day the court adjourned at the close of the day's session.

Mrs. Bradley Looks Haggard.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—The Bradley trial was resumed today at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Bradley entered court late today, looking haggard and weak. She was escorted to the big arm chair recently provided to make her as comfortable as possible. Archibald Livingston, Brown's stenographer, continued his testimony. He was shown the railroad ticket with which Mrs. Bradley was provided when she left Salt Lake, and was asked to identify the signature on it. It was signed "Annie M. Brown," and the witness said the writing was that of the defendant.
He said Mrs. Bradley, on the morning he gave her this ticket, which was to take her to Salt Lake, was in her usual health. She walked more briskly than do most women. He added:
"I thought she was very glad to get away."

After she reached Ogden on this ticket, she got off the train and bought a ticket for Washington.

She left Salt Lake on Monday, and on the previous Saturday she had called up Mr. Brown's office, and, learning that he had left the city, she remarked to the witness: "So Mr.
Brown has got away, has he?"

When she saw Livingston, she asked him if he thought Mr. Brown was going to marry her.

"I said," stated the witness, "that I hardly thought so. I don't what I had seen. She said:

ish to talk that way, that she should think of her children."

The witness was questioned concerning a conversation in 1902. He said he saw her in Mrs. Brown's house. And Mrs. Brown, in her presence said she had been over to the hotel and had found Mr. Brown and Mrs. Bradley in a compromising position. The said she wanted to make a statement and wanted the witness to take it down. In a short time she sent for a witness, and the statement was made and taken down.

The witness was asked regarding the conversation that took place in Senator Brown's office in the summer of 1902, at the time the divorce from Mrs.
Brown was talked of. He said Mrs.
Brown wanted her husband to make a statement of his intentions, and to this Brown replied:

"I will protect Mrs. Brown so long as she lives in me. I will tell Mrs.
Brown to get a divorce from me, or I will. I will state in the presence of my bitterest enemy (referring to Colonel Tatlock) that I will stick to Mrs. Bradley as long as she lives." The witness said further that Mrs. Brown asked Senator Brown to sign the statement, but he refused, whereupon Mrs. Bradley said: "Arthur, sign it," to which Brown answered: "Yes, Daddy, I will sign anything for you, but I will not for madam."

Didn't Promise to Marry.

On cross-examination by Mr. Hoover, witness said that Brown did not at the conference say he would marry Mrs.
Bradley, although the statement quoted was the substance of his remark. The witness had been employed by the firm of Brown and Henderson from 1898 until the firm was dissolved. He is still employed in the same capacity by Max Brown.

The conversation he had testified to,
in which he had heard Mrs. Bradley

WILL BE GREAT EXHIBITION

Both Teams Are in Good Form, With Many New Plays Ready to Spring—Richards' Eleven
Has the Advantage Over Northern Lads.

The Colorado Springs High School
Terrors, for two years champions of Colorado, will meet the team from the State Preparatory school of Boulder on Washburn field this afternoon to decide whether they remain for another year leaders in the interschool football ranks. The game will be the greatest intercollegiate battle of the season, not only in the importance of the contest, but in the fact that the contest of the year, but in the fact of football that will be played by both teams in an effort to win the coveted state championship. The kickoff will be at 2:30 o'clock.

Both teams are in prime condition for the fray. The Terrors, winners of the northern division honors, have been practicing for the last three weeks, with only this one game in view. The Tigers, who have been practically sure of the leadership of the southern division from the beginning of the season have been bending their energies for weeks in preparation for the final struggle.

Terrors in Condition.

Especially since they were given a hard tussle by the Pueblo Centrals have the locals been hard at work.
The work of the last 10 days has left them in better shape than ever before and they are ready for a hard battle. The fast signal practice of last night will be followed up this morning with a light limbering up, after which the team will take lunch at the Acadia and then repair to its training quarters.

The Terrors arrived in the city last night and registered at the Adams square. The squad is in charge of Coach Bretnell and Captain Wolff.
The men last night expressed their confidence in their ability to show the Terrors a hard fight, and declared that they had an even chance to win the game. They will be handicapped by the loss of Marvin, the right half, who was taken ill just before the team left and was unable to make the trip.
Otherwise they are in good condition and ready for the scrap of their lives.

Captain Wolff's Views.

"We think we have a good chance," said Captain Wolff last night. "Of course, we know the Terrors by repatation, and realize that we have a hard game ahead of us. Like the say Mr. Brown would marry her, on the would show his head off, had taken place in the summer of 1906.

He had not told her that Brown ought to marry her. He had never heard Mrs. Bradley's son called Arthur Brown, Jr. had heard of him only as Arthur or Arthur Brown. His picture was hung in the outer room of Senator Brown's office, beside those of other children of Senator Brown.

He had told Mrs. Bradley that the senator had left $2500 to buy a ticket for her for any place except Goldfield or Washington, and that she would give the money that remained after buying her the ticket. He denied having said that the senator did not want her to go to Goldfield because he thought she would succeed there. She wanted to get a stock of goods and open a store there. When pressed to know if he had not made that statement, he said he had told Mrs. Bradley many things so that they could get along together, had told her falsehoods to keep away with her, that she could struggle, but he told her he did not think she could do that.

Yes, and she knew it, I told her about that afterwards. Witness said he was in the office to do whatever Mr. Brown wanted him to do.

He had told Mrs. Bradley the senator wanted to keep her under his control. He was sure he had never told her he thought the senator should marry her without qualifying the statement. PLOT TO MURDER DIAZ

CASE AGAINST MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS HAS SENSATION

Employment of Yaqui Indians as Conquering Force Is Also Charged.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 27.—The case of the government against the four Mexican revolutionists, whose extradition is sought on a charge of plotting against the Mexican government, was materially strengthened today when the proceedings were lifted out of the commonplace by the introduction of letters alleged to have been intercepted by the federal authorities and which contain reference to plans for the assassination of President Diaz, the formation of a new republic to be known as the United States of Mexico, the capture of the customs house at Douglas, Ariz., and the employment of the bloodthirsty Yaqui Indians as a conquering force south of the Mexican line.

The prosecution, which professes to be familiar with the details of the plot, affirms that Ricardo Flores Magon, one of the men arrested here several months ago, had been picked as the successor of President Diaz. Antio Villareal, Librado Rivera and Guillerme De Lara are the three men who, with Magon, are facing extradition proceedings before United States Commissioner Van Dyke.

While not denying that they were parties to a plan to overthrow the present government of Mexico, the men have vigorously repudiated any intention of organizing an expedition within the United States, and claim this is the only offense for which they can be extradited from this country.

Letters alleged to have been addressed to the men on trial were introduced as evidence during today's hearing before Commissioner Van Dyke. According to one letter, the leader of the junta, presumably one of the men in custody here, was in communication with Javer Gutierrez, a chief residing in Arizona, who had been commissioned to investigate the outlaws bands of Mexican Indians to join the revolutionary movement.

In another letter, purporting to be from Salvador C. Haro of El Paso, is the following statement:

"It has occurred to me to go to the capital and take the life of Diaz. Give me instructions about the mode of preparing the bomb."

This letter was dated August 6, 1906.

Bradley if she brought a revolver with her to shoot him with, adding: "Did you intend to shoot him?" and the reply was, "Please excuse me; I don't care to answer that question."

During the night, when she was alone with Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Thornburgh said she asked her:

Said She Wasn't Crazy.

"How did you get up the nerve to shoot a man? You must have been crazy," she said. "Oh, I was not crazy. I am far from being crazy."

The matron said she asked Mrs. Bradley what determined her to shoot Brown, and Mrs. Bradley replied:

"He refused to do what was right by me."

The witness said she asked: "Why was that? Are you married to him?" and her reply was that Brown rushed across the room to a chair where his coat was and started to leave the room, whereupon she shot him.

"I asked," said the witness, "if she came here to shoot him, and she said: 'Well, if he refused to do what was right by me.'"

The witness, in describing Mrs. Bradley's state of mind, said that when she was alone with her, Mrs. Bradley was calm, but that she became agitated in talking to newspaper men. Witness believed Mrs. Bradley at that time was perfectly sane.

Cross-examined, witness said she and Mrs. Bradley were together the night following the shooting and until 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Four or five times during the night Mrs. Bradley walked the room swinging her hands and her feet, and that she had no conversation with her.

The witness said she inquired after the condition of Mr. Brown, saying she loved the ground he walked.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 27.—John Mosier, an employe of the stock farm of B. C. Brown, near here, was killed and mangled to death here by Mr. Brown's horse. The horse is the winner of the Burns handicap and several other notable events east and west.

MINES MEET BOULDER READY FOR MORMONS

DENVER GAME WILL BE GREAT STRUGGLE

Golden Team Has Edge on Form, but Colorado Has a Good Fighting Chance.

When the School of Mines and the University of Colorado meet at Broadway park in Denver this afternoon it will be a struggle of giants. The prize at stake in this titanic battle is the championship of Colorado.

If the Mines win they will have a clear and indisputable right to the state honors. If Colorado is victor, however, the championship will remain a three-cornered tie between Colorado, the Mines and Colorado College.

On form, and on the performances of the two teams throughout the season, the Mines have the edge. But form has been upset so often in this, as in every other football season, that the wise ones who are picking Golden may be due for a big surprise.

Colorado will put up a great game, and it may win, even though the odds are heavily against it. There are two things that make the Boulderites look particularly dangerous. Polson has been coaching them since the Utah game, and the Utah game itself was a superb illustration of what spirit and the determination to win in spite of odds can do for the Colorado team.

The game is such an uncertain quantity that either team may win.

In Good Condition.

There have been many bear stories from both camps for the last two weeks, but it seems as if most of the regulars will start on both elevens, while those who will not start will be ready to go in at a pinch. Both of the teams will be as strong, if not stronger, than they were in their respective games with the Tigers. Since 1899, Boulder has won ten games and the Mines nine, with the battle last year a 0 to 0 tie. Perhaps today's game may be a tie.

The lineup for the battle, as announced last night, will be as follows:

Morrill, c. Skinner, Zimmers, O'Brien, C. Baker, Parsonage, C. Evans, Barr, Kimmel, F. Knowles, Stretcher, b. Blatherwick, Reid, f. Nordenhold, Knowles, f. Hartman.

Denver Aggies Game.

The morning game at Denver is also coming in for its share of attention. There is little to choose between Denver and the Aggies. It should be a good, exciting game, with several new plays to startle the spectators. The lineup will be:

Denver. Aggie. Bruce, c. Chase, Green, L. Hinkin, Lieber, g. Driner, Robley (Capt.), Krowder, Thibault, f. Chase.

men are new on the eleven, Hills and myself being the only veterans. We will be outweighed by several pounds, but expect to make up for this in other ways. Of course, we use the forward pass and other new formations, but are not saying much about our plays. We place great confidence in Buegener. He is punting regularly from 45 to 65 yards, while his drop kicks are good from as far as the 35-yard line.

Captain Morrison was equally confident. "I believe we will win the game," he said. "Of course, it is the hardest on our schedule this year, and we are not over-confident. But the team has had the coaching of Principal Richards and knows considerable football. We will fight hard to win the championship for the third year in succession."

Terrors Have Advantage.

Undoubtedly the Terrors have the advantage in today's game, and unless the Boulder Preps prove one of the biggest surprises of the year, the local team should win by a safe, although not necessarily large margin. With Buegener's remarkable drop kicking and punting ability, a line that is supposed to be strong, and a fast backfield, the Preps are expected to make a hard fight and are likely to do a bit of scoring on their own account.

The Terrors have a lightning fast and seasoned backfield, while the line is new this year, but has shown itself equal to all the tests that have so far been imposed upon it. Murphy is a consistent place kicker inside the 35-yard line, while Morrison is a reliable punter, whose kicks average from 35 to 45 yards.

Both teams should have some good plays to uncork, and as this is the final game nothing will be held in reserve. There should be some exceptionally good football seen on Washburn field this afternoon. The indications are that there will be between 1,200 or 2,000 on hand to witness the game.

TELEPHONE RATES RAISED
Toll-free rates will cost more after December 1.

Beginning December 1 the telephone rate between Colorado Springs and Denver will be raised from 30 to 45 cents for three minutes conversation between Denver and Cripple Creek the rate will become 60 cents. Official announcement to this effect has just been made by the Colorado Telephone company. The action is taken for two reasons. It is held that the 11 years' long distance investment between Denver, Colorado Springs, and Cripple Creek does not pay a fair and legitimate profit. In the second place, the standard of toll rates throughout the United States is three-fifths of a cent per minute, and the fact that the rates between these three points has been below the standard has called forth protests by both users and various commercial bodies in other parts of the state.

Harry Decker, who was arrested on a charge of larceny as he left, preferred by his employers, Wandell & Lowe, was yesterday sentenced in Justice Ruby's court to 10 days in jail and the costs of the suit. Decker was found guilty of having drawn a check payable to himself for $5.50.

"MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP"

Subject Discussed by Members of Woman's Club.

That there are close students of the sociological questions of the day among the members of the Woman's club of Colorado Springs was again demonstrated yesterday afternoon, when the subject of "Municipal Ownership" was fully discussed during a regular meeting of the club at the city hall.

The subject was introduced by Mrs. Robert Kerr and handled from the viewpoint of one in favor of municipal ownership. Mrs. Boyd followed, took the negative, although it was plain that she did not disagree with the first speaker. Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, in answer to the question, "Does Municipal Ownership Pay?" quoted largely from the same source as the first speaker.

Some other speakers were Mrs. Nellie Elmer, Mrs. Lawrence T. Gray, Mrs. Ella L. D. Dwyer, and Miss Jeanette Scholtz. The latter speaker read the resolutions adopted at the gathering of the National Civic association in regard to municipal ownership.

The next event of the club, will be the subscription luncheon on Saturday at 1 o'clock in the San Luis school building. After partaking of a Scotch meal there will be a talk for practice in making speeches. Those participating will draw subjects on sealed envelopes, and thus no opportunity will be afforded for preparation.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Fruit of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That there are close students of the sociological questions of the day among the members of the Woman's club of Colorado Springs was again demonstrated yesterday afternoon, when the subject of "Municipal Ownership" was fully discussed during a regular meeting of the club at the city hall.

The subject was introduced by Mrs. Robert Kerr and handled from the viewpoint of one in favor of municipal ownership. Mrs. Boyd followed, took the negative, although it was plain that she did not disagree with the first speaker. Mrs. E. A. Sawyer, in answer to the question, "Does Municipal Ownership Pay?" quoted largely from the same source as the first speaker.

Some other speakers were Mrs. Nellie Elmer, Mrs. Lawrence T. Gray, Mrs. Ella L. D. Dwyer, and Miss Jeanette Scholtz. The latter speaker read the resolutions adopted at the gathering of the National Civic association in regard to municipal ownership.

The next event of the club, will be the subscription luncheon on Saturday at 1 o'clock in the San Luis school building. After partaking of a Scotch meal there will be a talk for practice in making speeches. Those participating will draw subjects on sealed envelopes, and thus no opportunity will be afforded for preparation.

MISS GRIFFITH'S FUNERAL

Body Laid to Rest in Fairview Cemetery Yesterday.

The funeral of Jennie Griffith of 112 Jackson avenue was held from Minium's undertaking rooms yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the Rev. Grant Teeters officiating. Interment was in Fairview cemetery. Both services were private. Miss Griffith committed suicide early Tuesday morning.

In sorrow over the death of Miss Griffith the bereaved family has been comforted by the many thoughtful friends and their numerous acts of kindness and sympathy. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Griffith and family desire to extend their most sincere thanks to all of the many friends who so kindly offered their help and sympathy at the time of the death of their daughter and sister. For the beautiful floral tributes and other marks of respect they also are thankful.

LEGAL HOLIDAY

The postoffice will observe Sunday hours today. There will be no delivery by carriers, but those who wish their mail may call at the office between 10 and 11 o'clock.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Fruit of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Fruit of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

ATTORNEY A. SPENCER MANIAC.

It is curious, says a writer in the By-stander, to watch the commotion that Alfonso's appearance in his motor car generally creates. As he comes tearing along at his usual breakneck speed, two gun-damers stand ready for his arrival at every 20 yards or so keep the way clear, and a whole crowd of feet, and that is all that is seen of the king. At Bay once a short time, ago he was stopped like an ordinary mortal, and answered the usual questions as to name, residence and profession before the poor policeman discovered to whom he was talking. Twice the royal chauffeurs have given up their posts. "The father of a family," said one, "I cannot possibly risk my life."

STOLE SOCIETY'S KNOBS

From the New York World.

Since October 1 Police Commissioner Bingham has received a score or more complaints from Fifth avenue residents who had lost their door knobs. Husbands coming home late at night found it utterly impossible to find the keyhole with anything like a key to start from as a sign of operations.

Lippenberg, Stewart was one of the heaviest losers. His door knobs were of German silver, antique and highly treasured. They were stolen last week. Last week the police arrested Donato Matzie, 12 years old, of 25 Minetta lane, and charged him with the theft. He was sent to the Catholic protector. Yesterday they took in Michael Signorelli, 12 years old, of 25 Minetta lane.

He confessed to the larceny of the knobs and said the good ones had been sold to Mrs. Christian Stefano, a junk dealer at 15 Minetta lane. She was arrested.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF FORTUNE

An interesting man was Colonel Fitzgerald, who died in Philadelphia a few days ago, at the age of 15. He was a soldier of fortune for though the name of a fortune teller, he was also a Hungarian patriot and friend of Kossuth, he served under Garibaldi in the redemption of Sicily from Bourbon rule, and coming to the United States in 1849 he became Colonel in the regular army. In 1855 he was appointed consul to British Guiana, and held that position until 1858.

MANY POST CARDS HFI D

Senders Have Not Complied With Requirements.

Hundreds of post cards are being held at the Colorado Springs postoffice because the senders were uninformative as to the new requirements of the government with regard to mailing this class of matter.

For the information of the public, the postoffice has issued the following bulletin:

"Post cards and postal cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes, transparent or otherwise, are chargeable with postage at first-class rates—two cents an ounce or fraction thereof. If enclosed in unsealed envelopes, they are subject to postage according to the character of the message—the first-class rate if wholly or partly in writing, or the third-class rate, one cent, for each two ounces or fraction thereof, if entirely in print, and the postage should be affixed to the envelopes covering the same. Postage stamps affixed to such cards enclosed in envelopes having an opening exposing the stamp cannot be recognized in payment of postage thereon."

THANKSGIVING.

AT first sight there is something perfunctory about the observance of a day every year about the same time for the same purpose—and that purpose the giving of thanks to the Almighty for his mercies. Very likely some people do "feel thankful just on that particular day, and can't easily get themselves in tune with the general spirit of it. But, after all, it is a good custom. If we should wait to be publicly thankful until some very special occasion called for it, it might be several years before we could celebrate. And, really, when we come to think of it carefully, it is probable that everybody has something to be thankful for. If there is nothing else, there is the fact that we live in Colorado, and that is no small mercy.

If the point of view be an entirely material one, there are many who can be thankful only that they are no worse off. The last month or two have proved a strain on many a pocketbook, and many a small income has shrunk to still smaller proportions. But for the greater part of the year, Americans, as a people, have enjoyed the greatest prosperity ever known on earth. Can't we be thankful for that as we look back? Business was booming, everybody who wanted work had it, wages were higher than ever before. It is something to have had such a condition for so long a time as we did.

But it is better not to take a purely material view of causes for Thanksgiving. If you are really alive, you surely can find something inside to be thankful for. It may be only the memory of a delightful day, a finely played piece of music, or a good book, but that is something. It may be that one can find some real progress made in the intellectual or spiritual sides of one's nature, in which case, the reason for thankfulness is surely great. You may have made a new friend, or received an old friendship, one of the best things on earth. In any case, you can probably help somebody to have a happier day, or if even they could have had without you and that surely is cause enough for thanksgiving, whether you have anything else or not.

THE END OF THE SEASON.

TODAY practically ends the football season, east and west. Next Saturday the Army and Navy meet, but that is the only big game left after today. And there are not very many today. In the east, interest will be centered on the Cornell-Pennsylvania game; but most of the big teams are done for the season already. For some years the tendency in that part of the country is to end the season earlier. It was found that fall Thanksgiving day was secure, and on account of the weather it was advisable to finish the schedule soon after the middle of the month.

In this state, the Boulder Mines game at Denver and the High School game here will attract general interest. The High School game is really the more important of the two, for it will in all probability decide the interschool championship of the state, while the college game, while it may decide the state college championship, will almost inevitably leave the Rocky Mountain championship unsettled.

It may be well to reflect, however, that the side end and aim of playing football for a season is not the winning of a championship, or one of the competing teams. In the east, in fact, there is no championship, except in a few minor leagues. Of course, after the season is over, the football experts agree up and declare which, in their opinion, has been the best team, which second best, and so on, and undertake to make up an "All-American" team out of their heads. Thus, for instance, it is generally recognized that this year the Yale team is the best, and the Princeton team second, with the Indiana a good third; but there is no championship among them. The game is played because it is a good game, and it is just as much fun whether your team is champion of some league or not, or any fact it ought to be. The discipline of defeat is often more salutary than the elation of victory. If you look at it right, there is a whole lot of satisfaction in knowing that even if beaten, you have done your best.

UNITED STATES AIRSHIPS.

IT is no new thing for the Government to take an interest in the solution of scientific problems. That is a form of paternalism which even Jefferson favored. For more than a century scientific work has been done by Government experts. We have the Smithsonian Institution and the Naval Observatory, and the Geographic and Geological and Geodetic surveys, and many other departments of a general scientific sort. Some of this scientific work has a practical end, such as the hydrographic and other surveys, but some of it is purely scientific, like the work of the observatory and ethnological bureau. Of the former sort is the work that has been done in experimenting with airships. In past years many experiments were made by Professor Langley, who developed an airplane which was perfect theoretically, but which he never quite got under control. Now, it is said, the Wright brothers, who have gone further in the line of aerial navigation than any body else, are employed by the Government, and have been studying in Europe for some time; with the idea of constructing aeroplanes which shall be practically useful for the work of the government. We suppose it is now accepted that the airship of the future must be of the "heavier-than-air" type. Balloons have their uses, as has been proved for the last forty years or more; but they are still largely at the mercy of currents of air, and can not travel against the wind. The ideal airship, like the steamship, must be able to make way against a head wind, in any direction desired, and at an elevation convenient; and in order to have such a craft completely under control it must be heavier than the medium in which it is immersed. The aeroplane seems to offer the most probable practical solution of the problem.

It is not necessary to jump at once to the conclusion that we shall have aerial warships within the century. They may come, and maybe may "grapple in the central blue," but there are lots of things which an airship might do which would be valuable in times of peace—things which will at once suggest themselves to anybody who thinks. It is alleged that Secretary Taft will ask for an appropriation of $200,000 at the forthcoming session of Congress for experiments with airships, and it is not unlikely that the expenditure of such a sum may be looked upon as a good investment.

Professor Percival Lowell is bound to people Mars if possible. He thinks he has new evidence of life and of engineering works there, from his latest photographs, which he says show that when the snow at the poles melts in the spring, it is conveyed toward the tropics and presumably is used for irrigation on the way. If these lines that have been observed are canals, they are big ones—being apparently from ten to twenty miles wide, and that is a good deal wider than any ditch in Colorado. Furthermore, they are straight, and that is also what no ditch in Colorado is. It may be that these new observations are of great value; but we have observed that it takes only a small amount of photograph to serve as a basis for a deal of theorizing.

It does not seem likely that the Pettibone trial will take as long as the trial of Haywood, nor that it will be exploited to the same extent by special correspondents and "stiff artists." A large part of the evidence against Pettibone was presented, incidentally, in the Haywood case; and it would be difficult to get a jury in Colorado that had no opinion as to his innocence or guilt. He did not operate in Idaho, however, except at long range, so it ought not to take so long to get a jury for him as for Haywood.

If the football games on Thanksgiving day lead to the abolition of the 2 o'clock dinner, they deserve the thanks of mankind. Just why one should be compelled on a holiday to gorge himself at an unusual and inconvenient time, and then probably go hungry in the evening when he wants something, has always been a good deal of a mystery. Except, of course, that the "help" wants the evening off. Where there is "help" there is probably no help for it; but where there isn't, there is no reason for upsetting the usual procedure.

WOMAN WORKERS.

Woman suffrage in Finland promptly brings a prohibitionist triumph. In this country, wide regions are going as dry as Sahara without woman suffrage. And there go on.

MEXICANS FRIENDLY TO UNCLE SAM.

In leaving Magdalena bay to the United States for use as a coaling station the government of Mexico has shown a very friendly spirit toward the United States. Of late years American diplomacy has proven an established cordiality between the United States and the Republics of the south.

The visit of Secretary of State Root to Mexico a few weeks ago seemed to have no definite purpose. The state department, as a rule, manages to keep its secrets very successfully when secrecy is of prime importance. There is no doubt now that the main object of Mr. Root's visit to the Mexican president was to negotiate for the lease of Magdalena bay, which will be valuable to the United States not only because of the cruise of the battleship fleet to the Pacific, but for other reasons. In leasing the United States a coaling station, the Mexicans show a disposition to be good neighbors, and to identify their interests with those of the powerful northern neighbor. This the concession may have a significance other than that which would attach to an act of friendly courtesy. The lease of Magdalena bay to this country is not without interest to foreign governments.

THE HUNTERS' DEATH LIST.

This is the time of year when the hunters' death list occupies a place in the news dispatches every morning. Thus far The Record-Herald has received accounts of thirty-seven persons killed and six hundred injured in this time of sport this fall. Yesterday morning, for instance, Wisconsin alone reported two men killed and three injured by gunshot wounds, not to count one man who fell dead from heart disease in his excitement at coming across a herd of deer.

In this one day's casualties it just happened that all the victims were hunters. That did not lessen the tragedy, but it at any rate removed part of the barbarity from the story. The hunters took their chances in having their sport, and they are alone to blame for what happened to them.

Usually, however, the hunting disasters number many men who are in no way responsible. The farmer in his field, the lumberman in the timber, even the fisherman on the bank or in the boat, is apt to be mistaken for a bear or a deer or a rabbit by a hunting party. In many of these cases the hunter is looking for, in many of these cases that matter, life is always in peril during the hunting season. Even in Cook county, only a few miles outside the city limits, there is often danger.

When lists of the killed and injured grow so long as they have been the last few years, it is time radical steps were taken to make life safer. Wisconsin and some other states have placed heavy penalties on the accidental killing of human beings by hunters, but they have not ended the evil. They have only taken first steps, which should be followed further, out of the simplest consideration for the safety of human life in this country.

"PLAY BALL."

Keep cool; don't get excited; don't imagine that present monetary conditions are more than short-lived; don't talk panic; don't think panic; create an atmosphere of faith and optimism. These are the words of some people who ought to be ashamed of such credit drew currency out of banks and locked it up. That can't last. Idle money soon burns a hole in your pocket and gets out. Men want their money to work 24 hours a day, Sundays and holidays included. They want interest or income from it. Don't imagine that idle money is going to stay idle. It will soon be coming back into the banks, just as soon as its owners come to their senses and realize that they have been more hysterical than a woman who sells because a poor little mouse happens in her room. The whole scare would be laughable if it were not so serious in its consequences. It's like a nervous man who wakes up suddenly in the night and trembles with fear until he stops to realize that a banging shutter or snow sliding off the roof made the great noise. Then his nerves soon quiet down and he goes peacefully to sleep. The country's nerves were on edge, and everybody was under a little tension because some of our public men, believing that there was a thief in a big crowd, concluded that they would try to kill him by shelling the whole crowd with guns and cannons. Some were hurt and a few killed, while dodging cannon balls of this kind had kept the crowd, which included the great American public, so busy that naturally any sudden noise even of a banging shutter started them to running.

In older cowboys days, when a vast herd of cattle on the plains became panic stricken in a great thunder storm at night or from any other cause, thousands of frightened, maddened animals would rush headlong at a terrific pace. Such a stampede must be checked, or hundreds would be trampled to death or be lost and so the cowboys, who take a chance of hitting the thief. Some were hurt and a few killed, while dodging cannon balls of this kind had kept the crowd, which included the great American public, so busy that naturally any sudden noise even of a banging shutter started them to running.

It is not necessary to jump at once to the conclusion that we shall have aerial warships within the century. They may come, and maybe may "grapple in the central blue," but there are lots of things which an airship might do which would be valuable in times of peace—things which will at once suggest themselves to anybody who thinks. It is alleged that Secretary Taft will ask for an appropriation of $200,000 at the forthcoming session of Congress for experiments with airships, and it is not unlikely that the expenditure of such a sum may be looked upon as a good investment.

Professor Percival Lowell is bound to people Mars if possible. He thinks he has new evidence of life and of engineering works there, from his latest photographs, which he says show that when the snow at the poles melts in the spring, it is conveyed toward the tropics and presumably is used for irrigation on the way. If these lines that have been observed are canals, they are big ones—being apparently from ten to twenty miles wide, and that is a good deal wider than any ditch in Colorado. Furthermore, they are straight, and that is also what no ditch in Colorado is. It may be that these new observations are of great value; but we have observed that it takes only a small amount of photograph to serve as a basis for a deal of theorizing.

It does not seem likely that the Pettibone trial will take as long as the trial of Haywood, nor that it will be exploited to the same extent by special correspondents and "stiff artists." A large part of the evidence against Pettibone was presented, incidentally, in the Haywood case; and it would be difficult to get a jury in Colorado that had no opinion as to his innocence or guilt. He did not operate in Idaho, however, except at long range, so it ought not to take so long to get a jury for him as for Haywood.

Is Roosevelt Great?

The Verdict of the Plain People on That Question—Why They Approve His Policies, The Preservation of Our National Resources as an Illustration—Of What Use the Constitution and Ideals if the People Starve?

From the Portland Oregonian.
OF the last year or two a great many people have been finding intellectual interest and spiritual profit in discussing the question whether President Roosevelt is a great man or not. Some such him with Washington and Lincoln, some find it difficult to think of anybody quite so insignificant as he is. One writer discovers convincing proof of his supreme greatness in the fact that the common people have already begun to exercise their mythological faculty upon him. He has become in his life time what only a few men, and these the very topmost of all the race, become as a rule in the course of a few centuries or a few thousand years after they are dead. He is a legendary hero while he still walks among the pitfalls and quagmires of this vale of tears. And because he is invested with the legendary merits of the heroic dead he is invulnerable to the assaults of living enemies. In the heat and fury of life's little fevers he sleeps well. Neither foreign invasions nor domestic treason can do him harm. What is the secret of his greatness, assuming for the sake of the argument that he is really great? We rather fancy for one thing that the brow-beaten, harried and plundered "plain people," whom Lincoln had so much to say about and whom the New York Sun so despises, look upon him as a champion. They feel in their hearts that he is a man sent from God to right their wrongs. But they have also instinctively and only half-consciously a deeper and more unselfish feeling about him. They apprehend, somewhat vaguely perhaps, that his thoughts and purposes partake of the eternities, that he has hold on the everlasting righteousness of the Almighty and speaks with prophetic insight the secrets of the future. His policies are not merely comprehensive. They are conservative in that high sense which pertains to the interests of millenniums instead of decades. What American statesman before Roosevelt ever grasped the truth, and taught it, about the basic material conditions of enduring national life? Others prattle about the rights of property, the interests of capital, and so on, questions which in the long run are, of course, important, but Roosevelt talks about the rights of the endless future and the interests of generations which shall succeed each other on this continent until the archangel sounds the trump of universal doom.

The present greatness of America is based upon our natural resources. Everybody admits it. Everybody glories in it. No Fourth of July orator ever failed to flap his wings, or tongue, in jubilant assertion of the fact. Roosevelt alone has ever thought to ask what our greatness will be based upon when our natural resources are gone. In what bright realm of departed souls will our lumber industry continue a disembodied existence when we have cut more trees than the United States knows more about such matters than everybody else, computes in "The Outlook" that in some thirty years more at the present rate of consumption all the merchantable timber in the country will have followed the forests of Wisconsin and Michigan to the happy hunting grounds. What then of our sawmills, our lumber shipments, our wooden houses, our great masses of shacks which are in smoke because they are not worth saving? Shall we have these sources of wealth and comfort in the next generation? A voice, sweet but sad, responds: "No."

We are already on the verge of a lumber famine. While we ship boards by the flatload and trainload to foreign lands and build up a tariff wall to exclude forest products coming from Canada and Norway, the prices for wooden building material of all sorts climb higher and higher at home. We are like some wretched Englishman who sits in a smoke because they are not worth saving. Shall we have these sources of wealth and comfort in the next generation? A voice, sweet but sad, responds: "No."

The perils of modern explosives are everywhere recognized, and the question of tests for stability becomes increasingly important with every such accident as that in the turret of the Georgia. The British war office has been somewhat exercised lately over cordite. Some of it contains mercuric chloride, which makes it combustible in the usual heat test. It has been held by the chemists that the presence of this chloride does not necessarily make the powder dangerous, and this summer new tests have been devised which it is hoped will make unnecessary the destruction of the suspected ammunition.

MY DOG

My dog loves me and I sometimes think I am not so bad, though the world may think I am.

For a dog sometimes can seem so wise. When he looks at you with his honest eyes, he knows just what he is.

So frank, so true, and so free from guile. That you trust your friend of the merry smile.

My dog loves me! And I always feel That this is a love that is firm and real!

My dog is a big, black, shaggy beast, With an appetite for his daily feast; He does most everything but talk. When we take our way for the country walk.

He licks my hand and he wags his tail. As we climb the hill and we skim the dale. And when I rest by the road and dream He watches there with his eyes agape!

I love my dog, for he seems to me From all that is false in life so free! You know, so often the friends we hold As our firmest friends, with a chain of gold.

That links them unto us, rain or shine, Somehow forgot. But this dog of mine, In faith or foul or the good or ill, Is my faithful, fine old follower still!

A REMARKABLE SHOEMAKER.

He Was Elected to Congress and After His Retirement Went Back to His Shoemaker's Bench.

William E. Curtis in the Chicago Record-Herald.

There was, once a shoemaker who left his bench to come to Washington and occupy a seat in the House of Representatives from the Fourth district of New Jersey, in the Thirty-second and Thirty-third congresses from December, 1891, to March 4, 1895. Immediately upon the adjournment of congress each session he went back to his shop and stuck to his last until he died, and when he died he left a will bequeathing his scanty property to the public library of Trenton upon the condition that none of it should be expended in the purchase of novels, because, as he said, "Truth is always preferable to falsehood, and life is too earnest and time too precious to be wasted on fictions that give no knowledge."

Furthermore, he made it a condition that the library should be attended by persons who served up intoxicating beverages or tobacco in any form, "because persons addicted to such habits are not safe advisers to the young, and do not furnish such an example as should be set by officials who come in contact with the public."

His name was John Skelton; he was born on a farm in Bucks county, Pennsylvania, and learned the shoemaker's trade in Trenton. After he had served his apprenticeship he set up a shop and did custom work and repaired shoes. In the meantime he studied medicine, and after a few years passed his medical examination and got a diploma from the Jefferson Medical college of Philadelphia. He carried on a small practice in connection with his shoemaking, and as the other side of his shop was a shelf with a row of bottles containing drugs and medicines from which he used to compound prescriptions for the poor, so that he was able to meet bodies as they came. Most of his medical practice, however, was gratuitous among the poor. His shop was the rendezvous of politicians, philosophers, cranks and men of ideas, and the discussions carried on there night and day were not without wisdom or interest. "Dr. Skelton" was recognized as a man of brains, learning and original ideas, and was elected a member of the board of education, which was the highest honor in the city.

He was a member of the Democratic party, and he was elected him to congress, where he never distinguished himself, but was a member of the silent majority. He was talked of as a Democratic candidate for governor afterward, but was never nominated, and never ran for any other office. After his retirement from congress, he spent his time, returning to the same old bench, just as he did after the adjournment of every session, while he was a member of the house. During his absence, he left his shop in charge of an assistant.

FRUIT OF A LOST LOVE

The perils of modern explosives are everywhere recognized, and the question of tests for stability becomes increasingly important with every such accident as that in the turret of the Georgia. The British war office has been somewhat exercised lately over cordite. Some of it contains mercuric chloride, which makes it combustible in the usual heat test. It has been held by the chemists that the presence of this chloride does not necessarily make the powder dangerous, and this summer new tests have been devised which it is hoped will make unnecessary the destruction of the suspected ammunition.

DON'T SWALLOW DRUGS FOR SKIN AFFECTION.

Discovery Proved That Skin Disease Exists in the Skin Only—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

The old method of trying to cure skin disease by treatment through the blood by way of the stomach has now been given up by all scientists. It has been proved that the only sure way to relieve and cure skin disease is by treating the disease where the disease is.

The remedy discovered and used by Dr. Decatur D. Dennis in his practice with such remarkable success in cases of eczema, psoriasis, ring worm, barber's itch and other such diseases and which he finally gave to the world under the name of D. D. D. Prescription, is now affecting almost everybody's skin everywhere.

Thousands of people have written warm personal letters testifying to the wonderful results obtained by the use of this remedy, especially in connection with D. D. D. soap. One valuable feature is that it stops all itching and burning instantly, immediately relieving the patient of agony and suffering, while continued applications effect a positive cure.

Just read this: "Your D. D. D. Prescription is the best remedy I have ever used for Eczema. It does all you claim for it and I can't help feeling grateful to you. My son suffered with this Eczema and scald head for four months. His head was something awful. All his hair came out. Itching, burning, and weeping. They were bought D. D. D. Two bottles with your advice cured him and he has had no return. His hair came in thick and beautiful."

PROF. CAJORI LEAVES FOR EAST

Will Address Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers at St. Louis.

Professor Florian Cajori left yesterday for St. Louis to attend the seventh meeting of the Central Association of Science and Mathematics Teachers. Two Colorado College professors appear on the program of this association, namely, Charles W. D. Parsons, professor of physics, and Professor Cajori, head of the department of mathematics. Professor Parsons holds the position of secretary-treasurer of the association, but will be unable to attend this year's meeting.

Dr. Cajori is on the program for an address to be given at a general meeting of all the sections, on "Lessons Drawn from the History of Science." This address will take about three-quarters of an hour. A second address will be given by Dr. Cajori before the mathematical section of the association, on the teaching of algebra. The central association is organized for teachers from the central states, comprising Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, South Dakota, Minnesota, Ohio, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Kentucky. Its meeting this year is to be held on November 28 and 29.

On the same day the southwestern section of the American Mathematical society also meets in St. Louis. Before that body Professor Cajori will give a paper entitled, "Notes on the History of the Slide Rule." For some time Dr. Cajori has made a study of the history of this instrument and he has worked out a number of new points connected with the history of its development.

The members of the two associations are invited to a banquet on Saturday evening to be given by the trustees of the Missouri Botanical garden, more generally known as Shaw's garden. Henry Shaw inserted the following unique clause in his will: "I hereby bequeath one thousand ($1,000) dollars annually for a banquet to the trustees of the garden, and to the guests they may invite, literary and scientific men, and friends and patrons of the natural sciences."

Professor Cajori is expected home Tuesday.

WIFE HIT HIM WITH HAMMER

Says John F. Luckenbaugh—Couple Divorced Yesterday.

Mary E. Luckenbaugh was yesterday granted a decree of divorce from John F. Luckenbaugh on the grounds of cruelty. In her complaint Mrs. Luckenbaugh charged that her husband called her vile names and repeatedly struck her. Luckenbaugh followed this up with a sensational reply, in which he charged that his wife had hit him on the head with a hammer, had neglected to cook the meals and take care of the household, and had declared her intention of taking up a life of shame.

Subsequently, however, he withdrew all of these charges, making an affidavit to the effect that he had sworn falsely on his reply. He then requested that the divorce be granted on the 2-year-old boy and requested that he be allowed to visit the child occasionally. The couple were married July 27, 1901, and have been living in Papetown.

In the case of Ravenell vs. Ravenell, the decree of divorce was also granted yesterday, the ground being desertion and nonsupport. The couple have been living in Colorado City.

THANKSGIVING BRIDES ANNUAL MEETING HELD

SIXTEEN YOUNG HEARTS WILL BEAT AS EIGHT.

Four Fathers-in-Law or Mothers-in-Law Required to Give Consent to Marriages.

Cupid has decided that as far as 16 people are concerned, at least, they shall always have something to be thankful for when the annual Thanksgiving day rolls around. He led eight prospective bridegrooms to the county clerk's office yesterday and helped them secure marriage licenses. In four of these cases he had to see that the young men were accompanied by their future fathers-in-law or mothers-in-law, four of the Thanksgiving brides he selected were "only seventeen," and the licenses could not be secured without parental consent. The grooms, too, were all young, although all old enough to vote. The favorite age was 22, three being of this number of years, while three were 24.

The licenses issued were as follows: George M. Stranel, 31 years old, and Miss Sarah Groff, aged 17, both of Mattoon, Elbert county, Colo. Consent being given by the father, D. B. Groff; Moss E. Gray, 24 years old, Cherry, Douglas county, Colo., and Miss Rosa M. Baber, 17 years old, of Peyton, Colo., consent being given by the father, Ira Baber; Clarence Pule, 22 years old, Oakland, Iowa, and Miss Mae Rodney, 17 years old, Colorado Springs, consent being given by the mother, Mrs. Kate Rodney; Luther Baldwin, 22 years old, Woodland Park, and Miss Marie Hotchkiss, Cascade, 17 years old, consent being given by the father, Henry Hotchkiss; Stearns Cushing, 22 years old, Fowler, Colo., and Miss Bessie Barber, 18 years old, Colorado Springs; Jeremiah H. Gallavan, Denver, and Miss Daisy A. Recker, Calhan, ages not stated; J. Chester Logan, 24 years old, and Miss Frederica C. Jensen, 22 years old, both of Colorado Springs; and Albert Vauthier, 24 years old, and Henrietta Vauthier, 20 years old, both of Colorado Springs.

Two of those to whom licenses were granted have been married once already. Moss Gray was divorced in March, 1902, the grounds being desertion. Mrs. Henrietta Vauthier is a widow.

Two marriages were performed yesterday. Mr. Gray and Miss Baber were united in marriage by the Rev. Adna W. Moore, pastor of the Second Congregational church. Albert Vauthier and Mrs. Henrietta Vauthier were married at 6 o'clock in the evening by Justice W. N. Ruby.

Friends of Miss Anna Sedgewick Silsbee, of Chicago, a sister of Mrs. Draxel Smith, of this city, and Edward Arthur Rosenfeld, of New York, who has been a visitor in this city for the last 18 months, were surprised yesterday to learn of the marriage of the couple. The wedding took place at Hugo, after Miss Silsbee had taken the train Monday for her return to Chicago. Mr. Rosenfeld boarded the same train to plead with her for her hand, the suit being successful. They stopped at Hugo, where a justice of the peace performed the ceremony. They then returned to Denver and yesterday came to this city, taking dinner at the Hotel. They will make their home here in a cottage on Cache la Poudre street.

Mr. Rosenfeld is the son of a prominent New York merchant. He has been a resident of Colorado Springs for the last 15 months. Mrs. Rosenfeld had been a visitor in the city only a short time. She is prominent socially in Chicago.

"Swatfest" This Morning Promised to Be Most Interesting Event of Season.

The annual meeting of the members of the Town and Gown Golf club was held yesterday afternoon at the club, the principal business of the meeting being the election of directors to fill the expired terms. Percy Hagerman, W. J. Chinn, J. P. Hubbell and C. P. Dodge were elected directors for three years, F. A. Loomis being chosen for a two-year term to succeed W. K. Jewett, resigned. The other directors are: H. B. Davis, Henry A. Young, C. E. Graham, E. P. Shove, S. L. Caldwell, G. B. Bosworth, F. M. P. Taylor and L. L. Attkisson.

The feature on the links today will be a "swatfest," which begins at 2:30 o'clock in the morning. This is a free-for-all, go-as-you-please match, always marked with considerable hilarity. It is open to all members, the requirements being to make each of the 18 holes in a certain number of strokes. A player who fails at any one hole must join the gallery and take part in the joshing and the fun-making at the expense of those still in the tourney. The man who wins by making each hole in the requisite number of strokes will receive a dozen golf balls; the runner-up, six golf balls, and the man who makes the lowest score on any of the holes, two golf balls.

Store Closed Today—Thanksgiving.

We Give Thanks

In appreciation of the blessings of Almighty God for the present year and to fittingly observe the day our store will remain closed all day today. It has indeed been an eventful year with us, one of the most successful in our history, and we give thanks to you for the liberal patronage accorded us, with every assurance that in the future, as in the past, it will be our constant aim to make this store the most satisfactory shopping place in Colorado Springs.

Tomorrow

We welcome you to the first showings of useful and artistic Holiday Goods; the thirty-two departments of this store have hosts of gift suggestions for men, women and children to offer. A stroll through the aisles will aid you very materially in making decisions and selections. There are only 22 shopping days between now and Christmas. Don't delay till the last week or the last day—it is so much more satisfactory to make selections now, or soon, than later, when stocks are incomplete, and everything is in a hubbub. You may make selections now, and by making a small payment we will hold your selections till later on, or we will deliver any article purchased now at a future date, according to your instructions.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

RESUME NORMAL BASIS

BANKS ARE RESUMING CLEAR- ING HOUSE CERTIFICATES.

Financial Institutions in the South, West and Northwest Ready to Resume Specie Payments.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—The first step towards resuming the clearing house certificates, issued in this city, was taken today when the executive committee of the Chicago clearing house announced that it had agreed to resume the clearing of the clearing house certificates that have been paid back to the clearing house. David R. Forgan, president of the National City bank, announced this action at the weekly dinner of the Chicago association of commerce and added that the procedure will be continued daily until the entire issue is paid back and normal conditions restored.

"We have received answers from 100 of the banks regarding resumption of specie payments," said Mr.
Forgan.

"The 200 of them declare themselves ready for such resumption at once.
The other two asked for a little longer time, but merely for the purpose of ascertaining if the time is ripe for such a move. The answers come from all sections of the south, middle west, and northwest. About 6,000 letters from all sections were sent out, and answers are coming in by the hundreds every day."

FRANK HEROLD IS FREE TODAY

Thanksgiving Day Pardon of Gov-nor Buchtel Falls on Man Held for Double Murder.

DENVER, Nov. 27.—Governor Buchtel's Thanksgiving day pardon fell to Frank Herold, who was sent to the penitentiary for life from Brighton, Colo., in 1906, for the murder of Charles H. O'Hara and his wife, Mary A. O'Hara. Herold claimed that O'Hara killed his wife and that he was a witness to the murder. It became necessary to kill O'Hara in self-defense, because the latter tried to put Herold out of the way, fearing that he would inform the authorities that O'Hara had killed his wife. This was Herold's story on the witness stand. The fact that Herold drove off all of O'Hara's cattle and sold them, pocketing the money, remained unexplained, and Herold was convicted of the double murder. His application for a pardon was endorsed by Warden Cleghorn, ex-Governor Mc-Donald and Mrs. McDonald and several other prominent people.

HAGAN SPOKE FOR HAGAN

His Pledge of Support of Tammany Well for Bryan Unofficial.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Charles F.
Murphy, leader of Tammany hall declared today that James J. Hagan had no authority to pledge Tammany hall's support to W. J. Bryan for the Democratic nomination for the presidency, as he did at the Bryan dinner in Washington last night. When Mr. Murphy's attention was called to Mr. Hagan's action, he said:

"Hagan spoke for Hagan, not for Tammany hall. No one is authorized to pledge the Tammany delegation. If Mr. Bryan is the nominee of the Democratic party for president, Tammany will support him loyally, but we are not pledging ourselves to any candidate at this time."

YAQUIS KILL MEXICANS

BLOODTHIRSTY INDIANS FIG- URE IN BUTCHERY.

Four Persons Are Reported to Have Been Slain When Pack Train Was Attacked by Savages.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 27.—Members of a prospecting party who have been in the state of Sonora, Mexico, bring a story of butchery by Yaqui Indians in which four persons were killed and two injured. The Indians attacked a pack train and scattered provisions in the train over a distance of several miles.

At Monton De Lena, the prospecting party met two badly frightened Mexicans who told of a Yaqui raid that had just occurred a few miles ahead. Investigation disclosed the dead and badly mutilated bodies of four men and the horribly wounded form of another. It is reported that the Indians have made five raids in that immediate vicinity in the last seven days and other deaths are reported.

WILL WAIT ON JAPAN

No Exclusion Measure to Be Prepared by United States.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—It is improbable that any legislation looking to the exclusion of Japanese will receive the approval of the executive until an opportunity has been had to test the efficiency of the new regulations that the Japanese government is preparing. Such advice as the state department has received indicates that in preparing these regulations the Japanese government is acting in perfect harmony with the desires of our own government, and it is deemed only proper that they should be submitted to a test before any legislation is attempted.

SEVEN JURORS CHOSEN

MUCH PROGRESS IS MADE IN PETTIBONE TRIAL.

New Venue of Seventy-five or a Hundred Men Ordered by Court.
Trial Adjourned Till Monday.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 27.—After the first day's examination of witnesses in the case of George A. Pettibone, charged with the murder of former Governor Frank Steenerson, seven are in the jury box who have answered questions to counsel of the state. Much better progress than was expected was made.
The regular venire of the men was exhausted before adjournment this afternoon, and 75 or 100 will report Monday when the work of securing a jury will be continued.

Judge Wood intimated today that he would not allow the latitude in challenges that he permitted in the Haywood trial. He also announced that later sessions would be held each day in order to conclude the trial as quickly as possible.

After the jury box was filled, How-ley briefly stated the case, and immediately plunged into examination of the witnesses.

R. E. Lamb, George W. Mitchell, F.
M. Blair and Edwin Smith, all farmers, were excused because of their objection to the death penalty.
J. E. D. Manville said he frequently attended the Haywood trial and formed an opinion in the case. He was excused. William H. Gibberd was permitted by the state for cause. He said he had no opinion in the case, having read very little of it.

At the afternoon session, General M. H. Fletcher and J. M. Potter were quickly disposed of, the former being opposed to capital punishment and the latter having a fixed opinion in the case. Bennett Calahan answered all questions satisfactorily and was reluctantly passed for cause by the state. He is a teamster in Boise and is a son of Attorney Thomas Calahan, who was supposed to be an attorney for the defense in the Haywood trial.
This was denied, however, during the examination of Bennett Calahan.

L. E. Rutledge was excused because he was opposed to capital punishment.
J. H. Compton said that he had a fixed and settled opinion in the case and the challenge of the state was allowed. Charles H. Schriener would not meet the requirements because of opposition to capital punishment. Joseph Kinkaid, a farmer, was accepted by the state. The next six witnesses examined were excused, they failing to qualify because of convictions against capital punishment.

P. C. Clark, a farmer, stated that he had no opinions as to the guilt or innocence of Pettibone and was passed for cause.
The last name on the venire was that of William Goodall, who failed to pass for cause as a juror in the Haywood trial. He said that he had an opinion, but could lay it aside and try the case fairly. He was accepted by the state. Judge Wood ordered Sheriff Frodin to draw a special venire of 100 from the body of the county and ordered court adjourned until Monday morning.

not reckoned, with the quality of sophomore spirit "and as soon as they left," her Miss Bloom secured a clothes line which was strung around the attic. Next, by prying out the windows, with an open case knife, she dropped out the rope and after reaching to a rather tall shelf, she put it back.

When seen afterward Miss Bloom's first words were:

"Please don't put my name in the paper. Really I didn't do much."

"Well, didn't you get out of the third story?" queried the reporter.

"Yes, but that wasn't mine. Do you suppose I was going to sit up there when I could get out. It wasn't far and I didn't think of the danger. The girls treated me nicely. They went away and left me. I had an invitation to dinner and so I went."

Miss Bloom is a slender young woman. She and Miss Lockin are both very popular at the college. Neither she or Miss Lockin seriously feels the effects of their athletic endeavors yesterday.

The cheap imitations of Foley's Honey and Tar cost you the same as the genuine in the yellow package. Why then, don't save your health, reduce your life, take them when Foley's Honey and Tar is the name. The genuine, the sure, the reliable. It is guaranteed. For sale by all dealers.
